

Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics

Submissions now open for MIT 2012

Global Shifts: Implications for Business, Government and Labor
Click to read call

June 28-30, 2012
Cambridge, USA

For more information:

- Read the 2012 conference theme
- Explore the SASE research networks

SASE Announces:

- Our 2012 mini-conference themes
- Our newest research network

Dear SASE Supporter,

We are pleased to announce that we are now accepting submissions for our 24th Annual Meeting. Submissions may be made through our website, www.sase.org.

Submit papers or sessions at www.sase.org

Deadline for all submissions, including applications for travel
grants and student stipends:
January 15, 2012

The 2012 conference aims to address issues raised by broad and pressing questions concerning global shifts. Within the well-established remit of SASE, participants are invited to submit theoretical and empirical contributions, at multiple levels of analysis from the local to the global, drawing from multi-disciplinary socio-economic frameworks.

President Mari Sako (Oxford University) and
Program Director Richard Locke (MIT)